

Division G: Social Contexts of Education

Graduate Student Fireside Chat

Public or Private Intellectualism? Perspectives on Scholarly Responsibility and Social Change

The public discourse that positions the academy in “the ivory tower” detaches it from “real” people, issues, and ideas. Many scholars struggle to serve the community while meeting academe’s demands for research, teaching, and service. In this fireside chat, panelists will reflect on the ways in which they have managed successful academic careers while simultaneously using their scholarly platforms in constructive ways to effect social change.

Dr. Delores Delgado Bernal University of Utah

Dr. Joyce King
Georgia State University

Dr. Ernest Morrell
Teachers College,
Columbia University

Dr. David Stovall
University of Illinois-
Chicago

Dr. Angela Valenzuela
University of Texas-
Austin

Saturday, April 14, 2012 12:25 – 1:55 pm

Vancouver Convention Center

West Room 202 & 203